TORONTO TIDINGS

Mrs. Arthur Wilson gave a very pleasant surprise party at her home on November 12th, in honor of the birthday of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Charles Wilson, and those present had a pleasant time. These two sisters are still brides, being married last June.

After several weeks' visit with friends here, Mrs. Thomas Green left for her home in Deloro, November 20th.

Messrs. Robert Enslinger and Russell S. Edwards enjoyed the Thanksgiving holiday in Hamilton and vicinity, as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Perry.

Mrs. W. H. Tudhope and her daughter, Miss Laura Tudhope, of Orillia, left for home on November 15th, after spending a week with relatives and friends. Both were at our meeting on Sunday, November 14th, and the former was greatly interested in our church.

Sunday, November 14th, was the first anniversary of the death of our beloved friend, Mr. Philip Fraser. How we could fancy him mingling among us dispensing his sunny smile, warmly grasping every hand and above all, lending a helping hand to all. He was one of the most shining lights in every enterprise that went towards doing good to others; and was never happier than when he was doing a good thing for his Master and humanity. Glowing tribute to his zeal and loyalty was paid him and such other much-missed friends as Messrs. J. D. Nasmith, E. Bridgen and R. C. Slater.

There comes from the past
Long since gone away.
The thoughts and the visions
Of those in their day,
And out of the gloom
Of the border land
Their comes the sweet touch
Of their helping hand.

Mr. James Hartwick, of Napanee, a school-mate of our by-gone days, left our midst on November 17th, after a pleasant visit with us of several days.

On November 14th, we were treated to a soul-stirring and heart-touching sermon by the Rev. Mr. Gildwell, a missionary of the African Inland Mission, who is now home on furlough. With Mrs. J. R. Byrne interpreting, this brave messenger of the Gospel spoke of the hardships, privations, dangers and sickness, which he had to encounter in converting the incredible savages to the love and knowledge of God in Darkest Africa. This mission was started over thirty-one years ago, and since then tens of thousands of these poor wretched blacks, who had hitherto been living amid disease, pestilence, barbaric conditions, and far from the "Door of Hope," are now enjoying the magic touch of His love and peace. They have since burnt up or cast aside their pent-up idols and strongly embraced the virtues of the Living Word. Mr. Gildwell intends going back again, and fervently asks us to pray for the success of his good work. Mrs. George Elliott rendered the usual hymn.

Mrs. George Awford, of Simcoe, was among the thousands who came to this city to attend the Royal Winter Fair, and during her stay of a week, was the guest of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Harris.

A few friends from Hampton were hospitably entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Grooms, at their home on Barrie Avenue, on November 14th.

It will be remembered that a few weeks ago our Ladies' Aid Society entertained over two hundred members of the Ladies' Aid Societies belonging to many churches east of Yonge Street, and now these hearing friends have rewarded our Ladies' Aid Society by donating to our church over two hundred dollars worth of furnishings, which we are most grateful for. Among the gifts are two Oriental rugs, three parlor pictures in frames, a library table, and six chairs to match, a divanette and two chairs, and chintz curtains. They all go to make our new church and parish house more homelike.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Harris entertained a few friends on November 15th, in honor of the former's mother, Mrs. George Awford.

In the death of Dr. George W. Graham, on November 7th, Mr. and Mrs. Angus A. McIntosh have lost a very dear and benfactory cousin, whom they sadly miss. The deceased was for many years Chief Coroner for the City of Toronto.

Mrs. George Awford, of Simcoe, Mrs. Muckle and daughter, Miss Lizzie Muckle, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Harris were entertained to tea at "Mora Glen" on November 18th, and in the evening a few others called.

The Misses Annie and Bella Mathison, daughters of our late beloved Superintendent Mathison and warm personal friends of the deaf, have gone to California, where they will remain for the coming winter. They sent a very interesting letter, stating how they journeyed thither and the deaf people they met enroute. A graphic account of their trip will appear in your next issue.

Mrs. A. W. Mason received a letter lately from Mrs. Annie Ward, stating she was now in Rochester, N. Y. Further reference will be given of her in next issue.

KITCHENER KINDLINGS

Mrs. Hough, of Foxborough, has been assisting her daughter, Mrs. William Hagen, since the birth of a son to the latter, on October 30th.

Mrs. Chappelle, of Toronto, accompanied by nephews, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Absalom Martin, in Waterloo, October 28th, to visit and console Miss Kate Fenner, who lost her dear mother by death on October 9th. Her parent was 84 years of age when she heard the "Golden Trumpets" call.

Miss Grace Gartling was much pleased with a visit from her brother, Rev. Stanley Gartling, who, with his wife and child, visited his old home here for a few days lately, prior to assuming his new charge at Welland, Ontario, having been transferred there from Bridgewater, Nova Scotia.

Regret to say that Norma, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hagen, has developed a mild case of the measles and, at time of writing, their home is under quarantine.

We were delighted to see our friend Miss Kate Fenner, of Waterloo, at our meeting here, on November 14th, for the first time. Before her mother died, she was kept at home practically all the time, but now she is free to visit her many dear friends.

Mr. Fred Terrell, of Toronto, was the speaker at a very good meeting here, on November 14th, and his sermon was well received. The usual crowd from the surrounding district was present.

Mr. J. Antion, who had been employed on the farm of Miss Margaret Kauffman's father, near Palmerston, the past season, came here recently, and was a guest of Mr. Thomas S. Williams while looking for work. Of course he failed to land a job.

WOODSTOCK WHISPERS

Miss Iva Hughes spent the Thanksgiving holidays very pleasantly with Mr. and Mrs. William Quinlan, in Stratford.

Mr. and Mrs. Hector Bayliss, of Hamilton, were in this city over Thanksgiving, as the guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Brown.

On his way to spent the Thanksgiving recess with his brother-in-law, Mr. Oliver Nahrgang and family, near Haysville, Mr. Charles A. Ryan called on Mr. and Mrs. William Quinlan, in Stratford. Charlie says our friends in Stratford and Haysville are doing well.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Gould, Jr., of London, holidayed here over Thanksgiving, with the latter's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller.

FLINT FLAREUPS

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Gorzowski and their guest, Miss Helen A. Middleton, did not go to the M. A. D. social in Detroit, on October 30th, as previously stated. Inability to get a new tire in time was the reason given.

Quite a number of her friends tendered Mrs. Gauthier a complimentary baby shower lately. Those who were there report a dandy time, as they wended their way home at midnight. Among the guests was Miss Helen A. Middleton, of Horning Mills, Ontario, Can.

The new home of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Gorzowski, on their farm a few miles out of the city, is rapidly nearing completion, and they expect to move into it shortly.

Miss Catherine Tudhope, of Orillia, Canada, came over in the early part of November, and is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Scott. She is trying to secure a position here.

GENERAL GLEANINGS.

Mr. Arthur Fuller, of Stratford, has returned from a visit to his brother in Battle Creek, Mich. He missed seeing Mr. Charles A. Ryan, when the latter was recently in the "Classic City."

Mr. Russell Groves, of Ingersoll, and Mr. Merton McMurray, of Thamesford, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McKenzie, in New Durham, on Thanksgiving Day, and report a lovely time.

Mr. Thomas A. Middleton, of Horning Mills, "forded" over and had a day's chat with Mr. John Taylor, in Singhampton, on November 14th.

The deaf over here were sorry to hear of the recent death, in St. Louis, Mo., of the Rev. Dr. James Henry Cloud, and the many who met him at the N. A. D. convention in Detroit, in 1920, thought very much of him.

Mr. Hugh R. Carson, who recently secured work in Owen Sound, is doing very well and getting to like his new surroundings. In sending in his renewal to the JOURNAL he says he is well pleased with this newsy weekly.

We deeply sympathize with Mrs. Robert Hay, of Avonton, upon the recent death of a sister in Watford, who is now relieved of her long suffering.

On November 5th, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Wark, of Wyoming, Ont., set out in their car for a 87-mile run to New Durham, and arrived safely at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McKenzie, who were greatly surprised yet pleased to meet their old friends once more. Here the Warks remained over Thanksgiving, and during their stay Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie and son, Robert, Jr., took them out to Burford, where they all called on their old schoolmates, Mr. and Mrs. Archie E. Smith. What a jolly time they all had. On November 7th, Mr. and Mrs. Wark bade their good friends adieu and left for London, where they spent the night with their nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. N. Thompson. Next day, they left for Strathroy, where they stopped and had dinner with their old friends, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur White, then left for home, arriving in as good spirits as when they left and feeling very grateful to their friends, in New Durham, Burford, London and Strathroy, for the glorious time they had.

A short time ago, it was stated that a son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Nahrgang, of Haysville, had moved to Buffalo, and now his brother follows across the line, to work for the Buffalo Railway Co.

Mr. Mack Hoy, of Avonton, was in Stratford at Thanksgiving time, visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Quinlan.

Thompson Memorial Hall.

The banquet given to commemorate the tenth anniversary of the dedication of Charles Thompson Memorial Hall, St. Paul, on Saturday evening, November 6th, was a highly successful affair. About one hundred sat at the tables, composing a representative gathering of the deaf.

The menu was excellent and well served. The responses to the toasts were brief and to the point. Everything passed off smoothly and pleasantly, and the highest credit is due to the committee who had charge of the affair.

The guests of honor were Mrs. Margaret Thompson and her nephew, Mr. Malone, President of the Board of Trustees of the Hall, with his wife and sister. For ten years the Hall has been a social center for the deaf people of the State, and it has witnessed many notable gatherings.

It has come to be such a matter of course in the lives of the deaf people of the Twin Cities, that they may not realize how much it means to them. But if it were to be suddenly taken away, all would feel its loss deeply. During the past decade, the Hall has been managed by a house committee, elected annually from among the deaf themselves.

And it has been managed ably at all times. We believe that no club house has been conducted in a more orderly and efficient manner than has the Charles Thompson Memorial Hall.—Minn. Companion.

Thomas Hopkins Gallaudet

TOMORROW is the birthday anniversary of Thomas Hopkins Gallaudet.

He founded the first public school for the deaf on this continent.

Until he came to the aid of the neglected deaf, there was no place to educate them. No one seems to have been at all concerned about the "deaf and dumb." Very few evidently understood the terrible condition of their darkened minds, but all they could offer was sympathy.

Gallaudet's great mind and large heart were touched by the deplorable misfortune of the deaf and exercised in devising means to alleviate it, through some method of instruction. He proved at once that the mind of the deaf is capable of instruction. Through little Alice Cogswell, he convinced the skeptical that she could be taught in all respects, just as the hearing child is taught.

He devoted his energies to the service of the deaf. Prominent citizens of Hartford came to his aid and furnished the capital necessary to go abroad and study methods of instructing the deaf in England. After a perilous voyage over the Atlantic Ocean—in those far-away days, navigation of uncharted seas was fraught with danger—his efforts were rebuffed. Happily he met with Sicard, a disciple of De l'Epee, and went to France, where his quest received cordial assistance. He returned to this country, bringing with him a most remarkably well educated deaf-mute, by name Laurent Clerc.

With Clerc's knowledge of the method of awakening the mind of the deaf as an inestimable asset, the first school for the deaf was opened in Hartford, Ct., on April 15th, 1817, with seven pupils.

From this small beginning, education of the deaf has progressed, and today there are 167 schools in the United States, with a total pupilage in the past fiscal year of 16,188.

This is only a brief and offhand statement, designed to bring to the deaf thoughts about their first great benefactor.

The deaf of different generations have registered their gratitude with paintings, presentations, monuments and sculptured statuary. The most recent is a full-size replica of French's statue on Gallaudet College Terrace, which was erected in front of the present School Building at Hartford.

Gratitude to Gallaudet will never be erased from the memory of the deaf, and each succeeding year the date of his birth will be honored as long as there is a single deaf person left to reverence his name.

NEW YORK.

News items for this column should be sent direct to the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL, Station M, New York.

A few words of information in a letter or postal card is sufficient. We will do the rest.

GREATER NEW YORK BRANCH, N. A. D.

The Greater New York Branch, National Association of the Deaf, held a stated meeting at the rooms of the Deaf-Mutes' Union League, 143 West 125th Street, on Wednesday evening, December 1st, 1926.

The time for the opening of the meeting was set for 8:15 p. m., but it was exactly nine o'clock when President John N. Funk rapped for order.

The officers of the Branch were on hand early, but the members were tardy in arriving.

Many by this time have come to the conclusion that it is no use to come early, because the meeting is always started late, consequently they come late. Isn't that good logic?

Now take, for example, two other organizations—the Deaf-Mutes' Union League and the Fanwood Alumni Association.

The Deaf-Mutes' Union League will have rounded to its 41st year next month. From the first to the present year, the meetings always have begun at 8:15 P. M. sharp.

With the Fanwood Alumni Association meeting were started late formerly, on account of non-arrival of members, but at the beginning of the present administration of Dr. Fox, meetings have begun promptly at 8 P. M., and always with a big attendance.

Here is a hint that the Greater New York Branch of the N. A. D. can profit by imitating.

At this meeting lots of time was consumed in discussing about a poster, hand-painted, to advertise the Association; to try to reclaim delinquent members; the passing of a minute of tribute to the memory of Dr. James H. Cloud, who though not a member of the branch, nevertheless, was a loyal member of the parent body and had served as president of the organization for two terms; the approving by the Executive Committee of holding a banquet on Friday, December 10th, 1926, to celebrate the anniversary of the birth of Thomas Hopkins Gallaudet, the founder of the first deaf school in the United States.

Also approving of holding a Ball in April, 1927, and part of the net receipts to go to the De l'Epee Memorial Fund.

The room of the Deaf-Mutes' Union League, where the meeting was held, can accommodate one hundred and fifty, and Custodian Charles Mueller had provided seats for one hundred only, but plenty of folding chairs were available for seating many more, but only about thirty were present.

Last week a young, well-dressed deaf-mute dropped in at the rooms of the Deaf-Mutes' Union League, saying he hailed from Chicago, Ill., and that he was a furniture packer, and a product of the oral method. He claimed that he was making between thirty and thirty-five a week in the Windy City, and had come to Gotham by the tales that as high as sixty per week could be made here. He was told that he was advised wrongly, because nobody here knew of any deaf-mute working at such a job. He was questioned about several things, among which were the well-known deaf-mutes living in Chicago, but had never heard even of the celebrated poet and JOURNAL correspondent of Chicago, Jimmy Meagher. He said he was educated at the Mt. Airy School, but did not know Messrs. McIlvaine and Ziegler, two prominent deaf-mutes, for many years employed at said school, nor it's popular and widely-known JOURNAL correspondent, James Reider. His name is Harry Edward Neyman. Does any one in Chicago or Philadelphia know him?

Among the many deaf of foreign birth, who have come to the United States and are now residing in New York, none has become widely known and made so rapid progress as Mr. George Olsen, who came to New York from Norway a couple of years ago. At that time, he was unfamiliar with the English as spoken by the American, but today has mastered the language to a remarkable degree. He mingles with the deaf a great deal, being a member of several clubs. But, by far, his greatest achievement is in his work, being an artist. His progress has been so remarkable that he has found it advisable to open a studio of his own. He specializes in commercial work, and is kept quite busy with orders, being obliged to refuse many an order. He ranks with the best of 'em, and we predict a bright future for this young man.

The home of Dave Berch has been gladdened by the arrival of a baby-girl recently. Dave conducts a tailoring and pressing establishment in the Bronx. His brother, Sam, works on Washington Heights, as a tailor. Both came to New York from Canada.

THE MARGRAF BASKET BALL GAME.

On Saturday, November 27th, the Margraf basket ball team, accompanied by manager Schurman traveled to Staten Island to play basket ball with the Curtis High School. The Margraf team outplayed their opponents by the score of 33 to 15.

The Curtis got the advantage by scoring the first goal, but the Margrafs rallied in the first half by 16 to 11. The game was played at a slow pace, each team shooting wildly. The shining lights of Margraf's team were Kerwin, Rose-sweet, Forman and Blend. Ash, at guard, did very creditable work, while Kostyk, Lynch, Retzker and Bayarsky, substitutes, showed much speed and ability. The contest was witnessed by a good-sized crowd of spectators and Fanwood pupils.

Fresh from a sensational victory, the Margraf Quintet will invade the lair of the Y. M. C. A. court to play the Greenpoint Y team on December 4th.

MARGRAF	CURTIS

Mr. Emanuel Souweine, the wood engraver, who has been doing business on his own hook for thirty or more years, has helped many a deserving deaf-mute to secure employment. Many turned out to be good and faithful workmen, but several were incompetent, and Mr. Souweine was blamed for his pains.

For the past few years he has been very careful before trying to secure deaf-mutes jobs; first he wants to be sure that the said deaf-mute is competent to do the kind of work he claims he can do, then if it is in his power to do so, he generally goes out of his way to help him.

Marcus L. Kemner, special agent for the New England Mutual in New York City, uses the following nifty bit of life insurance counsel on his letter heads: "It is a compliment to be solicited to insure. It is a proof that some one thinks you are of some value and use in the world. You may rest assured, that if you are not, life insurance companies do not want you."—Insurance Age Journal.

Preparations for the 41st anniversary of the founding of the Deaf-Mutes' Union League, which will take place at the Strand Roof Cascades, Broadway, 47th to 48th Streets, on Saturday, January 1st, 1927, have been completed. Announcements were sent out to non-resident members on Thursday, December 3d. Chairman Capelle says that those who desire to be present should notify him at once, as the capacity of the place is limited to 225.

There will be a Whist Party to be held at the H. A. D. Building, 117 West 46th Street, on Saturday evening, December 18th. Also a Rummage Sale will be held.

WEDDING BELLS.

RECHLIN-DUNDAS.

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Helmreich, Monday afternoon, November 22d, when Miss Anna Rechlin of Bay City, Mich., became the bride of Mr. Harry Dundas, of Saginaw, Mich. The bride was lovely in a gown of dark green satin trimmed with velvet, and wore a corsage bouquet of pale pink roses. Miss Rechlin was attended by her sister, Mrs. A. Helmreich, and Mr. Fred Rechlin was the groom.

The ceremony was solemnized by Rev. E. Scheibert, of Detroit, at 4 o'clock, before an improvised altar, which was attractively arranged with palms, ferns and chrysanthemums. Following the ceremony, a dinner was served to thirty relatives and intimate friends of the couple. Pink and white, the bride's chosen colors, were used in carrying out the decorations. Mr. and Mrs. H. Dundas left for a short trip, and will reside in Saginaw, Mich., on their return.

DETROIT.

Remember! Remember! The Christmas Festival at St. John's Parish House, December 17th.

Elections is all we hear. All the lodges, clubs and other societies elect new officers this month. We hope to be able to give them in full soon.

Mrs. Charles Lawrence's (Hattie Snyder) father passed peacefully on to the great beyond, after long years of patient suffering. To the bereaved family we extend our sympathies.

Turkey roosted so high, few of us landed one on our table.

The D. A. D. reception took place on November 20th. Mr. Leo Goldsteck was chairman of the evening and with his assistants everything went off with vim. The rooms were quite crowded, and the assembly room was decorated with three large baskets of flowers. The largest baskets were full of chrysanthemums and pompons, a gift of the Bank of Detroit. (This is the first time to our knowledge that a bank ever honored one of our affairs with their gifts.) "Thanks." The Flint speakers were all unable to come. Messrs. Kenney, Jacobs, Buby, Buxton, Beaver, Lobsinger, McCarthy, and J. Hellers, all made appropriate remarks.

The Misses Esther Dittinger, Clarys Ford, Beatrice Smith, Evelyn Williams, Millie and Agnes Perleshey, Mary Kropot, Anna Marai, Margaret Watson and Leona Thurston, served chocolate and wafers to all the guests. Messrs. Beach, Beaver, Wilson and Chenney acted as chefs, and sure did themselves credit.

Congratulations to Harry Dundas and bride. They were Thanksgiving guests at Peter Heller's home, and called at the Frat Club in the afternoon.

A daughter came to stay with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baird, November 29th. Congratulations.

Mr. Horace B. Waters, of Royal Oak, slipped on the steps and wrenched his shoulder. He managed to keep up with his work at Ford's.

Work is still scarce here, although some of the factories are opening up a bit. Thousands of men are seeking employment at each one every morning. Many are the signs "No help wanted." Ford's are only putting in two days a week. As we write, we heard they had closed entirely. It will be a slim Christmas for many.

Mrs. Bertha Fogel won a ten-dollar prize at a hearing masquerade last week, with her gypsy costume.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rheiner entertained a few friends on Thanksgiving Day.

Mrs. Wm. Liddy left Thursday for Toronto, to spend the holidays with her parents. Mr. Liddy expects to go up and bring her home after Christmas.

Mr. Otto Buby visited his parents at Brown City for the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Riberdy spent a week with Mrs. Sloane, at Fostoria, Ohio.

Mrs. Aloys Japes and daughter are spending a few weeks with her mother in Saginaw.

Mrs. and Mrs. Chris Riedenger went to Jackson for Thanksgiving and remained until Sunday.

Miss Helen Middleton, of Canada, was a recent guest of Mr. W. Riberdy.

Mr. Ivan Heymanson paid (what he hopes to be) his final visit to the University Hospital Tuesday. The doctors were all well satisfied with the appearance of his face and pronounced it safe for him to return to his work. On December 2d, his associates at Richmond-Bacus gave him a joyous welcome back.

Mr. Clyde Powers of Arkansas is patting himself in the back. He was lucky to get work at Dodge factory.

Arthur Brown of Rushton Mich. is staying with his parents this winter, and hopes to enjoy some good skating.

Feather Parties were all the go just before Thanksgiving, and on November 23d, at the D. A. D. Club rooms, under the management of Ben Beaver, P. Bednarek and Tony Blaka, a nice sum was added to the club fund. The winners were. On November 24th, at the Detroit Fraternal Club, five chicks were given to the holders of lucky numbers. They were Walter Bednarek, Mrs. Simon Goth, Mrs. R. Huhn, Mrs. Grace Merchant, Mr. Wm. Merchant.

Mr. Charles B. Kemp, of Chicago, entertained a large audience on November 27th, at the Detroit Fraternal Club. His subject was "Fraternal Insurance as a business," and he was master of his subject. Mr. Jones had written a pretty poem, "Frats" which Mr. Kenney rendered in signs. (We hope to have Mr. Jones permission to give it to you in full soon.) And some funny stories by Mr. Ruby closed an enjoyable evening.

Mr. J. Ulrich showed Mr. Kemp around Detroit Sunday before he left for home. Here's hoping he can come again some day.

MRS. M. L. BEHRENDT.

ILLUMINATION

When I am dead, What I have felt so long
My soul shall know in clearer, purer light;
That where I loathed and hated, I was wrong;
That where I loved and pitied I was right.
—ARTHUR GUTTERMAN.

We notice the Texas deaf have organized a new life insurance association, known as the "American Mutual Aid Association for the Deaf." They claim it is operated at cost and to make it possible for deaf women to carry insurance.

Eugene Fry spent Thanksgiving at the country home of relatives in Millard, Nebraska.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. R. Jelinek ate a sumptuous Thanksgiving feast at the home of the former's parents in Plattsmouth.

The Hallowe'en Circus given at the Iowa School gymnasium October 30th by Council Bluffs Division No. 103 drew the largest crowd of the season, including several out-state visitors. An enjoyable time was had at games and Hallowe'en stunts, and a neat sum was realized for the Local Fund. The committee in charge was: Mr. Taylor, chairman, Mr. Ransom H. Arch and Mr. Geo. Weidmann.

The out-of-town visitors were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. John A. Robinson, Mrs. William Wright and Miss Anna Johns of Des Moines; Mr. and Mrs. Warren Brant of Lamoni; Mr. Floyd Dowell of Coin; Mr. Paul Jaeger of What Cheer; Mr. Lyman P. Hull of Quitman, Missouri; Mr. and Mrs. John Thompson and Mr. Alex. Lucky of Corning; Miss Margaret Koschne of Sioux City; and Mr. Tom Harris of Onawa.—Iowa Hawkeye.

Mrs. Vernon Butterbaugh, nee Ella Cowen, stopped in Omaha the middle of October, with her seven-year old son Leslie, enroute to Los Angeles, where they will spend the winter. The frigid climate of Akron was too hard on the youngster's health. Mr. Butterbaugh expects to move there in the spring, provided he can get transferred to the Good-year Factory there. While in Omaha she was entertained at Bridge parties by Mrs. Blankenship and Miss Mary Dobson.

James Upah has written a song, entitled "Spangled Banner," with music by a hearing man, Luther A. Clark. Mr. Upah had it copyrighted and is now arranging with a publisher to get it out in sheet music form. He got his start through the Song Service Bureau, which specializes in assisting beginners.

A new Bridge club, known as the Monthly Bridge club, has been organized by some of the deaf ladies of Council Bluffs. It meets every Thursday at the homes of members. Mrs. Frank C. Holloway was the first to entertain last October. Miss Mary Dobson won the prize for highest score, while Mrs. W. E. Dobson, won the consolation.

A Bunco and "party" and 500 given by All Souls, Guild at Trinity Cathedral Parish House, November 18th. Admission was thirty-five cents, including refreshments. A very small crowd turned out, for some unknown reason.

Omaha Division, No. 32, held a bazaar at the Swedish Auditorium Saturday afternoon and evening, November 27. There were about 100 attendance and something like $75.00 was cleared. Out of town visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Haurigan, and Mr. and Mrs. George Thomsen of Fremont, Neb., and Mr. and Mrs. John Chowins, of Lincoln. The cigar stand raffled off went to Earl Mitchell; goose, Nick Peterson's brother-in-law, a hearing man; Duck, Mrs. Haurigan; chicken, Mrs. J. Upah. Boxes of candy, live chickens, etc., were sold. Also pop-corn, candy, pop and candied apples. Supper was served, and consisted of Irish stew, bread and butter, coffee, pie and ice-cream.

The Iowa School has been quarantined with about a dozen mild cases of scarlet fever, which prevented the deaf teachers from visiting friends and attending social gatherings.

Mrs. Edwin Hazel left two weeks ago for Chicago, in quest of a job, as Mr. Hazel was uncertain about his position here. They have stored their house furnishings and rented their home. Mr. Hazel is living with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Stinton at present.

HAL.

Moose Jaw Leaves

Mrs. W. G. Bell passed away on October 29th, in the hospital. The deceased leaves to mourn her death, her husband, two sisters and many friends, and for the past twenty years had resided in Moose Jaw. We wish to express our sympathy to Mr. Bell.

Miss Hamburg called down to see Mr. and Mrs. Bell shortly before Mrs. Bell's death. She spent a wee while at her brother's, near Moose Jaw. She is back to her duty as school teacher in the States. She enjoyed her holidays in Canada.

Miss Violet Hawkins went to Lipton, Sask., to visit her people for a few days, after being absent from home for over a year. Her parents said she looked so fat and healthy.

She reported a wonderful holiday.

Mr. John McLaren just finished working as a harvester. He is home bound East, but expects to come back next fall, if all goes well.

Miss Agnes Derkson is going to her married sister, after spending a fortnight at the hospital. Hope she will be back at her work before long.

Mr. Andrew Charlton stopped at Moose Jaw for two days on his way to Prince Albert from the South. He was heartily pleased to see Violet Hawkins again, after many months.

Miss A. McDowell returned home, after several months out in the country. She is filling her hope chest, waiting for the wedding bells to ring upon her about Christmas. We wish to congratulate her and her future husband.

Robert and Chris Hawkins were successful in landing in their new job at a lumber camp at Peesane, Sask. They hope they will like it.

Mr. Melvin Odgarde left town some time ago. Latest word from him reported working at Lumber Camp 1, at Peesane, Sask. He expects to stay there the whole winter.

Mr. W. G. Bell is thinking of going to visit his native land (Michigan) this winter.

Mr. John Heron is expecting his wife and two boys back soon. They were staying with Mrs. Heron's people in Manitoba all the summer.

Miss Violet Hawkins expects to join her people in Australia the end of next year.

PHILADELPHIA

News items for this column should be sent to James Reider, 1538 North Dover Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

The Gallaudet Club will hold its annual dinner at McCallister Sons, 1811 Spring Garden Street, on Thursday evening, December 9th. The price per plate will be three dollars for non-members of the Club.

Mr. Daniel Paul, one of Philadelphia's best known deaf, reached the seventieth year of his age on December the second. In honor of the event, a few friends were invited to dinner on the evening of the following day. Among them were Mr. Robert M. Ziegler, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. L. Salter and their niece, Miss Helen Parker. The Pauls live with their youngest son at Cheltenham, Montgomery County, just over the Philadelphia border line.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen E. Troup (hearing) have just moved into a whole house at 1225 N. Cambria Street. Mrs. Troup is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Eakins, of Reading, Pa. She is so fluent with the sign-language that she has frequently been called to act as "official court interpreter," in cases in which deaf persons were involved. Her mother, who is approaching her eightieth year, is at present visiting her for a week or so. The Troups have a charming daughter just graduated from the High School, who also can use the sign language freely. She is employed in The Ladies' Home Journal office here.

Mr. Robert M. Ziegler is holding his own so far. He is still crippled by palsy of the right arm, but otherwise his health is good. If he lives through August 1927, he will have passed his seventieth milestone in life. His address is 5912 North 4th Street, Olney, Philadelphia.

Philadelphia Division, No. 30, N. F. S. D., held its annual election of officers last Friday evening, December 3d, with the following results: President, Hugh Cusack; Vice-President, Lewis Long; Secretary, James E. Brady; Treasurer, William L. Davis; Director, Joseph Rubin; Sergeant-at-Arms, Francis J. O'Donnell, and Trustee, Lewis Long. These officers will be installed at the January meeting.

The next public event of Philadelphia Division, No. 30, will be a ball or dance, at its rooms, on Saturday evening, December 11th, admission to which will be one dollar.

Mrs. Ada McKehan, of Carlisle, Pa., and sister of Mrs. Harry E. Stevens, is visiting at the Stevens home at present.

A coming event will be the bazaar under the auspices of the Beth Israel Association of the Deaf, on December 14th and 15th, at the Beth Israel Temple, 32d and Montgomery Avenue.

Philadelphia had its first real snow storm of this season, on Sunday, 5th of December.

Mrs. Thomas D. Delph left for Ashland, Pa., on Saturday, the 4th, for a week-end visit to Miss Theresa Schoenberger. She expects to return home this Sunday evening.

The annual election of officers of the Clerc Literary Association will be postponed from December 9th to the 16th.

Mr. Charles R. Ford, of Toronto, Canada, is in the city, to take a course at the Lanston Monotype School.

We are sorry to report that the mother of Mrs. Joseph S. Rodgers is very seriously ill. Mrs. Rodgers' maiden name was Miss Ford.

FANWOOD.

A thrilling basketball game was played on the Fanwood court between "Johnny" and "Dave," on December 1st. The score was 13 to 11 for "Johnny." In the first half, the score was 7 to 5 for "Dave," but in the second half, the score was tied, 9 to 9, for a long time, until within three minutes of the finish, when the score was increased to 13 to 11 for "Johnny." Cadet Lieut. John Kostyk starred for the winning team.

DAVE 11	JOHNNY 13
Prevete	r. f. Manning
Harris	i. f. Port
Retzker	c. Kostyk
Rubenstein	r. g. J. Nahoun
Bayarsky	i. g. Horne

Field goals—Kostyk, 2; Retzker, 2; Port, 1; Harris, 1; Prevete, 1; Rubenstein, 1; Horne, 1. Foul goals—Kostyk, 3; Port, 2; Retzker, 1. Referee—F. Lux. Scorer—A. Hirson. Timekeeper—A. Nahoun.

A new pupil, named Robert Wolfe, was transferred to Fanwood from St. Joseph's School for the Deaf, on the week before Thanksgiving Day.

Last Friday afternoon, there was a tournament game in the gymnasium between "Nick," under the captaincy of Cadet Nicholas Giordano, and "Herbie," captained by Cadet Captain Herbert Carroll.

In the first half, the former's score increased quickly, but in the second half, although the "Herbies" improved, they lost to "Nick" five, which has won five tournament games. Nicholas Giordano was helpful to his team by shooting five goals.

Nick (21)	Herbie (8)
Wentnick	R. F. Labarca
Forman	L. F. Kopolowitz
Seitile	C. Heintz
Kahn	R. G. Kalmanowitz
Giordano	L. G. Carroll

Substitute—A. Nahoun for Forman. Field goals—Giordano, 6; Heintz, 2; Seitile, 1; Carroll, 1; Kahn, 2. Foul goals—Kahn, 2; Giordano, 1; Heintz, 1; Carroll, 1. Referee—F. Lux. Scorer—A. Hirson. Timekeeper—P. Prevete.

Mr. Edwin Gould and Mr. Henry

Gallaudet College

The Rev. H. C. Merrill, of Utica, New York, was here two days, November 20-21. At the invitation of the college authorities, he gave a sermon in Chapel Hall, Sunday evening, the subject of his talk being "Our Father."

Louis M. Byouk, '29, has been elected captain of the 1927 football team. His playing throughout his three seasons has fully justified the squad's choice of him as their leader next year. May a successful season be his and Gallaudet's. At present, Byouk is suffering from a badly shattered finger. Saturday, November 27th, he was operated upon in Sibley Hospital; his finger was set and some fragments of the bone were removed. The backfield star is, however, "on his pins," refusing to be confined to his bed on account of "just a broken finger."

THANKSGIVING HOLIDAYS
The Thanksgiving holidays commenced Wednesday noon at 12:12 P.M. and ended Monday morning, 8:00 A.M. A blue Monday, indeed. A more restful yet eventful holiday period can not be had—at least, it seems that way to the respondent.

Wednesday night, November 24th, the Jollity Club gave a side-splitting farce entitled "Aunt Jerushy on the Warpath." By means of clever settings, the stage was made to represent a "hick" town, named Wildrun. Not only the scenery, but also the acting, was in high favor of the audience, judging from the profuse handclapping at the fall of the curtain. Dorothy Denlinger, '30, was given the stellar role, and it's entirely to her credit that she acquitted herself of this part as no other Fowler Hall actress could. She was more than ably supported by the following cast:

Sufficiency Fish, her son
Hiram Fish, the constable
Estelle Caldwell, S. S.
Marjorie Egle, P. C.
Miss Stelly Etta Snapper, an old maid
Velma Brassell, '30
Elder Snuffels, Stelly Etta's ideal
Regina Cywinski, P. C.
Little Sis Popkins, the hired girl
Alice Campbell, '30
Bill Barker, Manager of the Carnival
Kathryn Buster, '30
Elsie Barker, the Carnival Queen
Suzanne Salick, P. C.
Madame Reeno De Beeno, a fortune teller
Lois Palmer, '30.

Thanksgiving morning, the Y. M. C. A., as is the custom, gave a program in Chapel Hall. Mr. Thompson, '30, rendered the opening prayer. Mr. Luther C. Shibley, '27, read the President's Proclamation, after which Mr. David Peikoff gave a dissertation on "The Significance of Thanksgiving." Mr. Peter D. Stewart recited the song, "Thanksgiving," after which Dr. Charles R. Ely closed the services with a prayer.

Immediately after the Y. M. C. A. program, the student-body repaired to Hotchkiss Field to watch the Mollicoddle game between the Senior-Junior-Sophomore and Freshman-Prep football teams. As the name indicates, only those who have not been in the squad this year are eligible to play in this game. After a long battle, which was hardly as exciting as those of last year and the year before, the score stood at 0 to 0. Both teams agreed to an additional five-minutes period, but neither profited thereby.

Thanksgiving night, a number of movies parties, properly chaperoned, set out to enjoyed themselves, some going to "Michael Strogoff" at the Rialto; others to see Richard Dix in "The Quaterback," at Loew's Columbia; Jannings in "Othello," at Wardman Park, and Harry Langdon in "The Strongman," at the Metropolitan. Not a voice has been raised in deprecation of this theatreward exodus of students, save, perhaps those of students who had the ill-fortune to be "dead broke" and unable to borrow some cash.

Friday night, November 26th the Y. W. C. A. gave a "tacky dress" party to all who cared to be present. The student body turned out in full force, garbed in all manners of dress imaginable. Prizes for the most ludicrous costumes were awarded to Miss Fish, P. C., and Mr. Mudgett, '29. A series of uproarious games for children was played, to the satisfaction of all. It is, indeed, a wonder that Chapel Hall did not collapse atop the heads of the students, so gay they were. Psst! Flasks were very much in evidence—but only harmless grape juice and soda pop were the contents of these much maligned vessels.

A SUMMARY OF THE FOOTBALL SEASON

Our victory over Blue Ridge, Saturday, November 20th, ended a moderately successful gridiron season for Gallaudet. The Buff and Blue eleven has won three, a percentage of .500, which is, by far, better than the showing we made last year. Not only the percentage but the finances have been boosted this year. The football department has now a balance of over a thousand dollars, breaking last year's record, which was about $889 or something like that. There is much likelihood of the football finances getting so that it will pay the expenses of the other branches of sport in the dim future.

The very fact that we have won at least three game goes to show that we should not play teams that clearly are out of our class. There's much more fun in rolling a stone than in bucking an avalanche.

Portland, Oregon.

Mr. Bud Hastings met with the first bad accident in twenty years at the Portland Furniture Co., on Monday, November 15th, when he fell while working the elevator at the above named plant. He injured his hip and shoulder, but will be back to work after a week's rest. Mr. Hastings is one of the oldest hands at that factory. There are now three deaf men employed there.

The Progressive "500" crowd met at the Nelson's home, on Thursday night, November 11th, Armistice Day. Mr. Wayne Thierman and Mrs. Chas. Lynch won prizes for highest score.

A social gathering, to which the ladies of the S. F. L. Club invited their husbands and sweethearts, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Barthlow, was held on Saturday night, November 13th. The event was in honor of the new baby, which arrived at the Barthlows' home a month or so ago.

Rev. O. Hanson, of Seattle, gave an interesting talk on Sunday night, October 24th. He told of his trip East to the Ministers' Conference, and talked about the N. A. D. Convention, held in Washington, D. C., and of the success on proxy voting, henceforth.

"500" party was given by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lynch, of Portland, on Wednesday night, November 24th. Mr. Lynch got them all playing their very best, as he claimed he had a surprise in store for the two highest scores. Mr. Kautz was the lucky winner for the highest score and won a fine fat chicken for his Thanksgiving dinner. And Mrs. C. H. Linde carried off the highest score on the ladies' side and was given a fine pumpkin pie. Sandwiches, ice-cream, cake and coffee, ended the event at 1 A.M. All claimed a wonderful time.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Lind will take Thanksgiving dinner with the latter's mother. They will take their two little boys along.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Kautz and little daughter will spend Thanksgiving with Mr. Kautz's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Lynch spent Thanksgiving with the latter's folks at Salem, Ore.

Mr. W. S. Hunter, of Vancouver, Wash., has changed his sport Dodge touring car for a brand new sedan of the same type.

A "500" card party was given in Salem, at the new home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Werner. Refreshments were served, and a good time was had by all who attended.

Miss Ethel Morton, who was employed, at the home of Supt. and Mrs. Steed of the Salem deaf school, was called home in Portland on account of the serious sickness of her mother. Miss Morton will be greatly missed at the Salem school, as she can make things lively at events around the school. Whether she will return to Salem or not, the writer has not learned.

The wedding bells will ring in Salem soon, in honor of Miss Ethel McElroy and Mr. Arthur Rebitzke. They have already got about all their kitchen ware, which was given them at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Lindstrom recently.

Supt. J. L. Steed, of the Salem, Ore., deaf school, was the principal speaker at a noon luncheon of the Kiwanis Club, at Salem, recently. He spoke of the education of the deaf, saying ninety percent of the pupils in deaf schools can master lip reading, and that the other ten percent do not make any satisfactory progress. Whether the ten percent are those who use only signs is what he meant, we did not learn, but some officers of the O. A. D. and a few other educated deaf of Portland do not like the tune of such speech, which matter will be looked up more thoroughly later by the State organization of the deaf here.

The writer may be subject to some criticism, because of lack of news in this great weekly paper. Nevertheless, the writer is and always was willing and ready to put in news every week for the Portland column, if there is any news to write, and again asks the deaf in Oregon, who have news, to send to the writer and he will be glad to help make Portland column worth while.

Yours for more news and A Merry Christmas and A Happy New Year to all.

SEATTLE.

At the last P. S. A. D. meeting, November 13th, Mr. R. C. Miller gave a very interesting lecture about labor bureaus for the deaf, telling us about the one now existing in North Carolina, and advocating the establishment of one in the State of Washington, which should be a state-wide bureau for all the deaf. In this he has the hearty agreement of all who have the real progress and welfare of the deaf at heart.

Mr. Bert Haire heard from his brother several weeks ago, telling him of the death of his sister-in-law, in an auto accident in Warrensville, N. C. His mother, after an illness of several days, also passed away, and his father, who is eighty years old, is now living with his brother.

Dick Morris, the brother of Mrs. Partridge, who was so ill from septic poisoning several months ago, is now quite recovered. He has located in Oakland, Cal., where he has a good position.

Miss Josie and Marion Scott, with a young hearing sister, attended our P. S. A. D. meeting. They are living with their parents at Kirkland, across Lake Washington, and have come from Massachusetts. We understand that they were educated at the Maine School. This is the first time we have had the pleasure of meeting them at one of our gatherings, and we hope that in the future they will come often.

Oscar Sanders was at the P. S. A. D. meeting, the first time we have seen him in a month. His job, at Redmond, takes him out of town, and he has to walk several miles each time he comes in. So we cannot expect to see him so often this winter as when his working-place was nearer.

Mrs. Joseph Gorman, the mother of Marguerite, purchased, as an investment the Alta Vista Apartment building on Seventeenth Avenue and Madison Street. When she sold her residence recently, she resolved to move into this apartment building. She is now comfortably installed on the third floor. The building has seventeen suites or flats, and Mrs. Gorman has reserved three of them for herself and family. In one of them she lives with Marguerite and her son, Robert. In the suite across the hall are the older daughters, and in the adjoining one the two younger ones. They are very comfortably settled, and Mrs. Gorman is enjoying the freedom from responsibility which the management of her residence entailed.

She and Marguerite are planning to go to Los Angeles after Christmas.

The Golden Rule Club met with Mrs. Haire, on November 11th, and an election of officers was held, or rather an election that decided to do without any officers except a treasurer. There is no longer a president, and the club will meet at the houses of members, the hostess of each meeting being in a sense the president. A bazaar will be held on December 18th, the proceeds of which will go to the Home Fund. There will be a meeting with Mrs. Bertram, to make arrangements for this bazaar, at which will be sold the articles left over from the one held last Fall.

Otto Johne, Bryan Wilson, Joe Kirschbaum and Hugo Holcombe will be with Dr. Hanson in the Stadium, on Thanksgiving Day, to witness the football game between Washington and Nebraska.

Mr. Christenson is getting along very nicely after his accident, and uses crutches quite skilfully. He goes alone to the doctor's office for treatment, and we hope that before long he can discard the crutches.

At Tacoma, on November 14th, the Hansons were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Lowell. Mr. Lowell, with some help from Mr. Ecker, is building a garage that will hold two cars, and is quite as good-looking as a bungalow. Some of his friends have suggested that he rent it as a home, but Jim will put it to the use originally intended for it. It is built just in front of his old garage. His comfortable home has an acre of ground around it, and is an ideal place in which to rear his little daughter, Margaret.

The Gallaudet Guild bazaar and monthly social takes place on November 27th, and will be managed by Mrs. Joe Kirschbaum, Towels and candy will be on sale, and there will be the usual program of entertainment.

Mrs. John Burgett is now home from visiting her brother in Michigan, and is looking rested and as cheerful and pleasant as always. On starting back, she found it hard to say goodbye to her brother, whom she had not seen for over 30 years. In Minnesota, she stopped for several days at Alexandria to visit John's sister and make her acquaintance. She was much attracted to her new sister-in-law, though she found her a good deal of an invalid. It was quite cold in Alexandria, and on the day Mrs. Burgett left there was a snow-storm.

Another of our people, who is now back home, is Pat Carney. He also went to Michigan, trying to find work. He decided that his chances were as good at home as anywhere else. He has secured work with a wrecking company, but the work is dangerous, and the pay very small. We hope to see him soon secure a better berth.

At the University, Alice Hanson has been elected to membership in Alpha Kappa Delta, the sociological honorary. Helen is captain of her hockey team. And both are happy.

Greensburg, Pa.

James Princler, of this place, is the proud owner of a 1926 Ford coupe, which he recently purchased in Indiana, Pa. This car is undoubtedly a beauty.

Your local, by invitation, was at a duck dinner at the James G. Poole country home, on Meadowbrook estate, on Thanksgiving Day.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Eisele and John McDonough, all of Scranton, took advantage of reduced railroad rates by coming down to Greensburg, on Sunday morning, November 21st. He preached on "Stumbling," after he read the 11th chapter of St. John. He then signed the Ten Commandments and the congregation joined in. He further read St. John, Chapter VI., where Christ feedeth five thousand men. The old members who attended, remembered the splendid services the Reverend used to have in Washington some years ago. Rev. Mr. Merrill recognized many objects around the church and he felt at home.

He preached to the students of Gallaudet College at their regular Chapel service Sunday afternoon, November 21st. The deaf of Washington attended to hear the preacher.

Services were held at the Baptist Mission with Rev. Mr. A. D. Bryant as usual. His theme was "The Gates of Thanksgiving." He explained that the first Thanksgiving was observed in Spain by King Ferdinand and Queen Isabel, upon the discovery of America by Christopher Columbus. The origin of Thanksgiving in the United States was started by Pilgrims at Plymouth, and President Lincoln appointed the fourth Thursday of November, 1864, and since that each President has annually followed his example.

Mrs. Simon Alley rendered "Triumph's Praise." The Baptist Mission is preparing a banquet for December 28th, at the hall of the Baptist Church. All are welcome.

In an interesting letter, dated November 10th, the editor of the Silent News-Letter, Mrs. G. E. M. Nelson, Social Assistant of Ephphatha Mission to the Deaf, Detroit, Michigan, says: "I am well and happy and enjoy my work for the church very much. One of our communicants is a lady whom you baptized in Charleston, S. C., in 1890. I have been a member of Ephphatha Mission for 41 years. My father was one of the original helpers of the Rev. Austin Ward Mann in establishing this Mission a half century ago."—The Silent News-Letter.

Mrs. Nelson, known as "Pansy," is a versatile writer. She graduated from the Michigan School for the Deaf. She is a dean of the Ephphatha Episcopal Mission for the Deaf, and the founder of the Guild, of which she is president this year. Here is good news to the deaf of Michigan—Michigan possesses the oldest State Society organized in the National Capital for social purposes. In 1862, the local citizens of the Wolverine State formed an association to be known as the Sons of Michigan.

"Yankee Doodle" must be the favorite poem of the Washington (1926) convention. Because it was recited several times at different times and places. W. E. Marshall's Yankee Doodle film shown in the New National Museum Wednesday night; Mrs. McGann, of Chicago, rendered it at the banquet Thursday night; Mrs. Coleman sung it at the "Female Get-together," Friday night and last, but not least, Mrs. J. F. Meagher signed it at the Verniers' Party Thursday night, after the N. A. D. banquet.

St. Barnabas' Mission of St. John's Church's own lay-reader, Mr. Robert C. Fletcher, who used to conduct services while a senior at the Gallaudet College last year, entered the Episcopal Divinity School, in Philadelphia, last fall. He is a clear sign-maker. The church members and old friends wish him good luck.

A message of greeting, dated August 11th was mailed to the writer from Mrs. William Behrendt, of Detroit, for the N. A. D. Convention. It never reached the writer until the last week of October. It also stated that the deaf of Detroit were in favor of Mr. Alexander L. Pach for the N. A. D. President.

Mr. C. E. LaVigne, Executive Director, Washington Convention Bureau, has a warm heart for the deaf, stating that the deaf were the best behaved people.

The deaf here would like to have the president of the National Association of the Deaf appoint a new state organizer of the N. A. D. for the District of Columbia. They want a live-wire leader.

Have you heard of the following story concerning thanksgiving?

DEAF-MUTE WINS DIVORCE

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 27. James Hamby, a deaf-mute, has been granted a divorce from Mrs. Johanna Hamby, also a deaf-mute.

He charges that his wife continually curses him in the sign language.—Sunday American.

The Capital City.

The Washington Literary Society met at the N. E. Masonic Temple, Wednesday evening, November 17th. Wallace Edington presided. A large crowd attended. The Rev. Mr. H. C. Merrill, of Syracuse, N. Y., who I understand, used to work in the Bureau of Engraving while he and his family lived in the Capital City some years ago, took "money" as his subject. What is money? Money is coin, pieces of gold, silver or other metal, stamped by public authority, and used as medium of exchange. Why do we have money? To keep us living harmoniously. A vote of thanks was given Mr. Merrill, after which the Local N. A. D. business meeting opened, with Mr. Marshall as chairman.

Upon an invitation of the Rev. Mr. H. J. Pulver, the Rev. Mr. Herbert C. Merrill, Missionary to the Deaf Western New York, preached at the St. Barnabas' Mission, Sunday morning, November 21st. He preached on "Stumbling," after he read the 11th chapter of St. John. He then signed the Ten Commandments and the congregation joined in. He further read St. John, Chapter VI., where Christ feedeth five thousand men. The old members who attended, remembered the splendid services the Reverend used to have in Washington some years ago. Have you heard of the following story concerning thanksgiving?

My friend explained to me that it was a true story of how the Indians say "Thank you." In an Indian Church in Oklahoma, an Indian member was asked what Jesus had done for him. As an answer he went out doors and got some dry leaves, which he laid in a circle. Then he placed a worm in the center and burning up the leaves until they were ready to burn up the worm, then the Indian lifted the worm out of the fire and said: "This is the way Jesus saved me!"

Six hundred men and women and children knelt at the altar rail in Grace and St. Peter's Protestant Episcopal Church in Baltimore, Md., last week while James Moore Hickson, English faith healer, placed his hand on their bowed heads and blessed. Among them were sixteen deaf people. This church is Baltimore's most fashionable church.

Let us locate a hall for our Washington, N. A. D. Branch, of which the Rev. Mr. Pulver is president. We want the meetings to be held regularly. If you want your N. A. D. letter, boost it to the final letter. Boost for every N. A. D. movement.

Mr. and Mrs. Byrne and child moved to Washington, D. C., from New Mexico recently. Mr. Byrne has secured a position in the government printing office. They now live at 256 9th St., N. E.

THOMAS HOPKINS GALLAUDET.

Thomas Hopkins Gallaudet, educator, philanthropist, and founder of the first deaf-mute institution in America, was born in Philadelphia, December 10, 1837.

Thomas, the eldest of twelve children, was fitted for college at Hopkins Grammar School, entered Yale, and graduated in 1865, with the highest honors.

He began the study of law and then two years was a tutor in Yale College, but ill health disarranged every plan, and after hesitating as to whether he should study law, engage in trade, or study for the ministry, he entered the Andover Theological Seminary, and was licensed to preach in 1864.

During one of his vacations while a theological student, he grew deeply interested in a deaf and dumb child, daughter of Dr. Mason Fitch Cogswell, an eminent physician of Hartford, and was convinced that he could impart to her a knowledge of simple words and sentences. The result of his first efforts were so encouraging that he gave considerable time to the task.

Dr. Cogswell became eager to have a school for deaf-mutes established and to have Mr. Gallaudet placed at its head.

A fund was raised by influential citizens, and Mr. Gallaudet was sent abroad to acquire the art of teaching the deaf in the schools of Great Britain and France. He landed at Liverpool, June 25, 1815.

In spite of letters of introduction, persistent personal efforts and intercessions of influential persons, he failed to achieve his object as far as schools in London and Edinburgh were concerned. These were under the control of a single family, which for generations had selfishly monopolized the work, so Mr. Gallaudet departed for Paris.

There he met with a different reception. The Abbe Sicard gave him every possible facility for the study of his methods, and when in June, 1816, Mr. Gallaudet returned to America, he brought Laurent Clerc, a deaf-mute, who had been the Abbe's most valued teacher.

In the following year, the Hartford School for the Deaf was opened, with seven pupils, and for fourteen years Mr. Gallaudet remained at its head, overcoming difficulties and bearing burdens, which his health would not stand. He resigned April 7, 1830.

In 1838, he was invited to become Chaplain of the Insane Hospital at Worcester, Mass., and in the same year to accept a similar position in the Retreat for the Insane at Hartford, Conn. He accepted the latter position, where he remained till his death, which occurred at Hartford, September 10, 1851.

Mr. Gallaudet was married at Guilford, Conn., August 29, 1821, to one of his pupils, Sophia, daughter of Miner and Rachel Hall Fowler. They were the parents of four sons and four daughters.

In 1854, a monument, the gift of deaf-mutes and designed by two deaf-mute artists, was erected on the grounds of the Hartford School for the Deaf, and in 1888, a bronze statue by Daniel Chester French, also the gift of deaf-mutes, was placed on the grounds of the National Deaf-Mute College in Washington, now known as the Gallaudet College for the Deaf, of which his son, Edward Miner Gallaudet, became president in 1864, and served until his death, September 26, 1917.—The Public Ledger.

CHICAGO.

"Comparisons are odious," yet interesting. The famous 25th anniversary banquet of N. F. S. D. division No. 1 saw 186 banquetters, yet No. 1 has 589 members. The 10th anniversary banquet of Rockford Division No. 57 saw 77 seated—yet Rockford has only some 35 members!

Mrs. Meagher was the only Chicagoan attending that Rockford banquet on the 20th. She and the F. Neesams, of Delavan, were guests of toastmaster Fred Shatwell. There were a number of excellent addresses, principally those of Neesam, Baird and Wartner, of Belgium. The program:

"Star Spangled Banner".....Mrs. Frieda Meagher
Address of First Grand Vice-President.....Frederick J. Neesam
"25 years a Frat".....A Baird
"A Foreigner's View of the N. F. S. D.".....Marcel Wartner
"The Aux-Frats".....B. F. Jackson
"Frats 25 years Hence".....Stanley J. Bondick
Impromptu Talks, by Nelson, Ernest Swangren, F. Neesam and Mrs. Meagher.....Mrs. Frieda Meagher

The "Backward party" at the M. E. "citadel" on the 27th, saw two score jubilants. W. Vaughan and C. Sharpnack wore their trousers wrong side around, and were the life of the party.

William Runyon, aged 81, great-grandfather of Mrs. Gilbert, is visiting her from Indiana.

The H. James were probably the only local silents securing invitations to the Army-Navy ball on the 26th.

Wm. B. Gaston, who used to teach the colored deaf in the Georgia and Texas schools, is now janitor in the Delta Tau Delta chapter house at Northwestern University. As he can speak, he gets along nicely with the students.

Miss Gladys Hedrick, who graduated from the Indiana school last June, is working here, and endeavoring to form a basketball team of deaf girls. Young silents desiring to try for the team are invited to address her at 3224 N. Karlov Place, Apt. 1.

Attendance at the famous Thanksgiving eve masquerade and "500" at the Silent A. C. was over 250. Eleven tables of "500." Very few masked—but most of the masqueraders wore excellent costumes. Results:

First prizes, $10 each—Andy Knauff and wife, Aurora, as "Miles Standish" and "Priscilla."

Second prizes, $5 each—Miss Vera Riek, "Aunt Jemina;" and Mrs. Geo. Sullivan, "Spanish guitar player." The latter wore a "stick-pin" consisting of a small electric light bulb, which she flashed off and on effectively.

Juvenile prizes, $2—Maurice Newman and Betty Carlson.

Otto Mallman brought his wife and little daughter, Dorothy, born August 1st—their first appearance since the event. Otto is a promising Lightweight pugilist, fighting under the management of Frederick Meinken, using the name "Dummy Whurley."

Herman Pike, former president of the San Francisco division, who traveled to Washington aboard our "Nad Special," is back in town, after a summer in North Carolina. He is studying at the local linotype school, and boarding with the Paul Martins.

Mike Doran, of Worcester, Mass., Elmer Priester, of Detroit, David Goodman, of New York, and the John Cordanos, of St. Joe, Mich., were in town recently.

Joe Schreiter, of Delavan, Wis., and W. G. Goodwin of Wilson, Ark., both have jobs here and will stay.

Antonio Cicchino, formerly of Gallaudet College, has a job here and will make a most valuable acquisition to our colony.

Another valued addition is pretty little Miss Margaret Thompson, of Minnesota, who has three (hearing) sisters here. Don't confuse Miss Margaret Thompson with the Mrs. Margaret Thompson, who donated the magnificent St. Paul clubhouse.

Mrs. F. Andrewjeski, of Akron—our former Lilly Gwin—spent a day with her folks in Mississippi. She had with her her daughter, Francis, aged five, and her little baby.

Mrs. Catherine B. Norris died of quick pneumonia a month after her youngest grandchild, after being unconscious three days. The Rev. P. J. Hasenstab conducted funeral services at her home on the 24th. Profuse floral tributes came from the neighbors, who had known her for nearly fifty years.

Mrs. Loretta Barr's mother came from Indiana to spend two months with her, and sat for a photo of four generations.

Odell Ballman, of Detroit, spent two weeks here, as guest of Ralph Weber.

Miss Annabelle Kent, the authoress, spent a few weeks with the Flicks, en route to winter in that beloved California.

Dates ahead, December 11—Sac, Mid-winter dance. Pas, Bunco, "500," Kalamazoo banquet. 18—M. E., "White Elephant."
J. FREDERICK MEAGHER.
